Baker McKenzie FenXun.
奋讯·贝克麦坚时

Jason Wen's practice focuses on PRC business and tax law related to foreign investment, disputes with tax authorities, PRC transfer pricing, mergers and acquisitions. He has over 20 years' experience in advising China tax and investment.

Professional experience

Representative Legal Matters

- Advised clients on tax audit defense with the PRC tax authorities, tax hearing and tax administrative review with tax authorities and tax litigation with courts.
- Experienced in negotiation with tax authorities and has a good working relationship with different levels of tax authorities.
- Advised clients in various tax compliance and tax back-filing matters.
- Performed tax due diligence for M&A transactions involving China.
- Performed tax health check for the Chinese subsidiaries of MNCs.
- Advised clients with regard to transfer pricing benchmarking analysis and transfer pricing documentation filings.
- Advised clients in relation to advanced pricing arrangement negotiation with PRC tax authorities.
- Advised multiple foreign investors in relation to design, establish and operate tax-efficient holding and operating structures for their China investments.
- Advised clients on turnover tax planning and compliance matters.

Location & Information

Beijing

+ 86 10 6535 3974

Practices

Tax

Languages spoken

English / Mandarin

Recognition

Professional Honors

- Band 1 Leading Lawyer: Tax: Consultants, Chambers Greater China, 2026
- Rising Star (Tax, China), Asia Pacific Legal 500, 2021
- Tax Controversy Leader (China), International Tax Review, Tax Controversy Leaders Guide, 2017-2025, 2013-2015
- Indirect Tax Leader (China), International Tax Review, Indirect Tax Leaders Guide, 2017

Qualifications & Education

Admission

- Certified Tax Agents (CTA)

Education

- Peking University (MBA) (2014)
- Beijing University of Technology (BA International Economy) (2001)

Baker & McKenzie LLP is a member of Baker & McKenzie International.